Featured Callers & Teachers

Chrissy Davis-Camp - Chrissy grew up in the mountains of East TN. Her father was Director of Sunset Gap Community Center where she attended monthly folk dances from age 8. She attended Berea College and was part of the Country Dancers there for 3 years. Chrissy now lives in Bell Buckle, TN & has been a popular caller throughout the southeast and mid-west for more than 30 years. She is known for her clear teaching and large, excellent repertoire of contras, squares, English and circles.

Andy Howard – Andy started clogging at age 8 and has been dancing and performing ever since. He has taught clogging and other forms of dance since 1995. Andy has been a regular featured instructor at clogging conventions and workshops throughout the country. He currently lives in Atlanta and is director of the American Racket dance troupe.
